LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION

To Whom It May Concern,

I am pleased to recommend Uddhavchandra Pandi in support of his application to the Open Doors Russian Scholarship Project for Master's studies.

I became acquainted with Uddhavchandra during his participation in the Summer University program at Ural Federal University (UrFU) in the IT and AI track. During the program, he attended my lectures and I had the opportunity to interact with him on several occasions. Through these interactions, I observed his genuine interest in technology, Artificial Intelligence, and his active engagement with the academic environment of the program.

Uddhavchandra demonstrated curiosity and a thoughtful approach to technical topics. He showed a willingness to learn, ask questions, and engage with ideas beyond simply completing assigned work. His interest in Artificial Intelligence and related technologies was evident throughout his participation in the program.

I found Uddhavchandra to be a motivated and sincere student with strong potential for further academic development. He approached learning with an open and respectful attitude and demonstrated an interest in expanding his knowledge in the fields of Computer Science and Artificial Intelligence. I believe these qualities will help him adapt well to an international graduate-level academic environment.

Based on my interactions with him, I believe Uddhavchandra has the motivation, curiosity, and academic potential required for further study in Artificial Intelligence and related fields. I therefore support his application to the Open Doors Scholarship Program and recommend him for consideration. I am confident that he will make productive use of the academic opportunities available to him and continue developing his technical knowledge and research interests.

Sincerely,
Daniel Balungu,
Assistant at the Department of Big Data Analytics and Video Analysis Methods
Curator for International Students of IRIT-RTF
